

I am astounded that this docket is still being considered at all. The interference will be unbelievably annoying to me, I can tell you. I listen from long wave (100KHZ) thru short wave including active ham radio. I can also assure you that you are setting up a massive confrontation evidently endorsed by the FCC. You can expect many law suits if implemented.